NATION MOOT COURT TEAM SELECTED

The Case Clubs of the Law School announce the selection of the following juniors for the National Moot Court Teams: Arthur Brooks, Jerry Jordan, John Krsul, Tom McCarthy, Gilbert Miller, Michael Metzger. These two teams of three men each will participate in the regional competition held in Detroit next semester. The top two regional teams will then travel to New York for the national finals during Christmas vacation. As in previous years the team will participate under the guidance of Professor R. J. Harris, National Moot Court Team faculty advisor.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE INDISCREET

Your behavior during the Michigras parade last Friday was abominable. Because you deemed it great fun to douse innocent passers-by with beer, fruit, cans, bottles, and water it became necessary for law school officials to intervene.irate citizens protested to the police department and the awful eye of the University focused upon us. And this despite frequent well-intended warnings. For shame! As a result the Lawyers Club stands in jeopardy of losing the long-standing privilege of self-discipline. Instead of the sympathetic rules enforcement of the Board of Directors there would be the stern sanctions of University judicial bodies. The carefree activities we have grown to unthinkingly accept as a matter of right would be severely curtailed. You can be sure that those in high places will be watching with interest your behavior during the twist-a-thon this Saturday night in the Quad. A repeat performance of last Friday's antics would be serious. Some never seem to learn, but should you plague future generations with your indiscretions their pox will be upon you. These remarks are not intended to curtail the frivolity of those blessed with good judgment, but are intended to check your lack of foresight, Mr. Indiscreet. Your shadow hangs over the Lawyers Club and when little men cast long shadows, it is late in the day.

With apologies for your outraged pride,
Bill Schmidt, President Emeritus

YOU SCREAM! I SCREAM!!...

Yesssss! Yesssss! It's the old cry of the Ice Cream Social. There may not be any ice cream, but it's free, and that's about all you need to attract a bunch of law students. But tomorrow night in the Law Quad there will be MORE, MORE, MORE. Warm-up for the Crease Ball. One request. Please restrict your twisting to the sidewalks. The "stampin' out the cigarette" motion murders the blue grass and massages the crab grass. So, y'all come. Tomorrow night, 9-12. B.B.B. (Bring brown bag).

JUDGE ADVOCATE OF THE NAVY TO VISIT LAW SCHOOL

Rear Admiral Mott, Judge Advocate of the Navy will speak to the interested law students on Thursday, May 10, at 2:30 in Room 100. The subject of his speech has not as yet been announced. Admiral Mott is reported to be an excellent speaker. Interested students should be there early, as the NROTC boys have been invited.

EDITORIAL NOTE

This is a special issue of Res Gestae published between administrations. It contains only the necessary. Any person interested in improving the quality of this publication may see Dave Serotkin at any time. Perhaps something can be arranged.
